OCTAVIUS L. MONTEFIORB,

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE AUSTRALIAN MUTUAL PROVIDENT SOCIETY.

LABLES AND GENTLEMEN,—

1° beg to inform you of my intention to become a CANDIDATE to fill the next vacancy that may occur in the Directory of our Society. It is neither my intention to importune you by any personal cawass ner to trouble you by soliciting your votes through the medium of an agent, because I deem it better for our mutual interest that you should be quite free to make your choice after the names of all candidates for election shall be placed before names of all candinates for section small to piacon better you.

The fact of my being one of the largest policyholders, and that I formerly filled the office of Director for a period of four years (during which time I assisted in affecting some very beneficial changes in the management), with I trust, be considered by you as sufficient guarantee that, if elected, my best energies will be devoted to the success of a Society in which, in common with you all, I am so deeply interested.

EAVILAH GOLD-MINING COMPANY (LIMITED),

HAWKINS HILL, TAMBAROORA. Capital, £4000—in 4000 Shares of £1 each,
Two thousand of which are reserved for the proprietors, and two thousand are now offered to the public as follows:
—26 dd per share on application; 2.6 dd per share on allotment, and the balance in oalls not exceeding 2e 5d per ment, and the balance in case has been commonly about per month.

Directors to be chosen from the body of shareholders at a special general meeting to be called for that purpose. Should the Company not be formed, the deposits will be returned without any deductions.

This company is formed to work a leased claim on Hawkins Hill, Tambaroora, and consists of about two acres, which are quite close to all the richest claims in this colebrated locality. It is bounded on the north by the Great Western, on the coutth by Messers. Matheson and Co., and all the richest claims in the direct line; on the east by Messers. Knight and Co., Grabbs and Co., and Tippett and Co., all of which have been proved.

It will thus be seen that gold has been struck all round, and the rich votae, which exist in all the claims to the south, must of necessity pass through this one.

It is estimated by the proprietors that £1000 will thorwighly develope this mine. A shaft has sixedy been sunk for a distance of 50 feet, the cost of which is to be repaid to the proprietors. A map of the ground can be seen at the office of the undersigned, from whom prospectures can be had, and to whom applications for nhares, accountantied with a deposit of 2s 63 per share, is to be made.

Comment on the value of this claim, or on the probable success of the venture, is purposely abstained from, as the precision of the claims or asks for the title ! the sole reason of the proprietors offering it to the public being the want of tunds to work it.

mouth.

This Company is formed for the purpose of purchasing and tworking the three Claims on Hawkins Hill proper, known as the property of Armstrong and Co. The action of the ground is 900 feet across the whole of the rich veins by 120 feet wide.

The proprietors have agreed to sell these Claims for £5100, taking payment £2100 in cash, half down and half on the 10th March next, and £4000 in £1 fully paid up sharpe. The £1900 will form the working capital, and is ample to open up the mine.

This ground, four Claims south of the Rose of England, its bounded by Board and Tailentine's and other Claims on the north, and south by Weir and Party, and also near Eleminative's work Leases on the south. Beard and Tailestine recently gruphed 17 or, to the ton.

The following veins must run through the ground, viz.

Two tunnels have been driven into the hill, the upper one 80 feet, and the lower one 200 feet. One shaft has been such 70 feet. It is intended to continue the lower tunnel, sud cut all the above veins. The proprietors are daily expecting to reach the first vein at a good depth. A crushing was taken out of the shaft yielding 18 oz. to the ton.

The position of the ground is undoubted, and the price saked by the vendors is less than for any other claims lately effered on the famous Hawkins Hill.

Applications for shares, accompanied by the deposit of 6s per share, and addressed to the Provisional Directors, 10, Barrack-street, will be received up to the 10th February, the first applications having a preference.

Should the Company not be formed, the deposite will be returned in full.

The Company possesses seventeen and a-half scree of ground en lesse, situate on the Royal George Recf. near Green Swamp, about nine miles from Guigong, and they offer part of their interest to the public, for the purpose of obtaining oufficient capital to develope the rich auriferous resis in the ground, and to purpose first outperform of their interest capital to develope the rich auriferous resis in the ground, and to purpose first outperform of the company of requiral to develope one of the richast mines in the colony.

From several points of the ground tunnels can be put in, which will be highly favourable to the future and permanent working of the mine. There is abundance of excellent timber for mining purposes obtainable on the ground.

The original abareholders do not intend to dispose of any of their reserved interest in this property. They are now resisting rich quarts to wait crushing by the machinery which is proposed to be erected, and are confident a divident will be payable out of the returns of the first crushing. A fine site is accurad on the banks of the Mindge River, having a frontage to permanent water, for the erection of machinery, about one mile distant from their lease. The proprietors are now sinking shafts and raining quarre, the expense of which, or otherwise working the mine up to the time of formation of the Company, will not be charge-able on the subscribed capital.

This company is formed to work a five-acre lease, on the line of the well-known "Welcome" Reef, close to the junction of the Turon and Macquaris Rivers, between Oaky Creek and Chambers Creek.

It lies between Mesers, Saul Samuel and Co.'s claim on the north and the Great Tambaroora Company's on the south, and is one remove only from the ground of the Welcome Company's. Both of these companies have greatly enhanced in value since they were launched; the prospector's cotspany (the Welcome) now representing, according to recent quotations of shares, from £15,000 to £29,000 in the market.

The Great Tambaroora Company's operations of driving to cut the reefs at a depth of several hundred feet will also necessarily drain this ground and greatly facilitate operations and economise labour.

The "Welcome" reef is proved in an unbroken line along the southern adjoining claims, viz., the Factolm, the Golden Fleece, the Welcome Company (Since's), and the Great Tambaroora Company. It is also traced for sixty yards along the surface of this ground—gold-bearing all through; and several other promising vonns are known to run through the ground—four (4) distinct reefs, one a solid mass of four (4) feet thick, being worked at the present moment by Mesers. Saul Samuel and Co. close to the northern boundary of this ground.

In addition to Mr. Aithen's machine, Mr. Charles Lewis is now putting up a 30-head stamping battery, and both of these are sany of access for the stone raised.

The proprietors refer intending shareholders to the reports published weekly in the local and Sydney paper respecting this now celebrated line of reef.

Rr. Bins, the original prospector of the Welcome, writes—"Irvine's lease adjoins the Great Tambaroors Company's growned, and the lease held by Mr. Court (Saul Samuel and Co. s), in which they are now getting gold in several different voins, and these mate rat work on Hawkins Hill, for the claim is on the direct line of reef south from Hawkins Hil

Capital, £12,000, in 6000 Shares of £2 each, of which 3000 fully paid-up shares will be retained by the proprietors, and the remaining 3000 shares are offered to the public on the following terms, viz.—is per share to be paid on application, is 6d per share on allotment, and the balance as required, in monthly payments not exceeding is per share.

Three additional directors will be elected from the subscribing shareholders so soon as 2000 shares have been taken by.

The object of the formation of this Company is to work a 10-acre lease situated at Beer's Guilty, Hill Had, and immediately (adjoining the large claim of Messar, Krehman, Paxton, Gard, Holman, Dwyer, Coyle, and Williams. Beer's Guilty was famed for its rich alluvial workings, probably never equalide elsewhere in the colony; and it runs through the centre of the Company's ground.

A shaft has been sunk to the depth of 160 feet, in which there are two veins showing gold from the eurrance shownwards; and at a depth of seventy feet, left. Lucas obtained a portion of quarts, which has been sansyed at the Mint, and yielded at the rate of 19 dwis, it gra, to the ton, as per accompanying certificate. With one or two acceptions, none of the rich claims came to such prospects until after sinking from 160 to 200 feet, and as it is a wall-known fact that the richness of the stoke in the neighbourhood increases with the depth of the sinking, there is every probability of this ground turning out equal in richness to say of the celebrated claims in the district. Besides those from which the above-mentioned quartz was taken, nine other veins, supposed to be equally rich, have been cut on the surface by freeduling.

The proprietors do not ask payment other than the -barres silotted to them for their interest in the claim, but are satisfied to wait until the produce of the mine yields a return.

There being a quartz-orushing machine within five

Extinction of Busil Fires.—Wa [Ragga Appross] understead that Mr. Thomas Sharp, of Widgiewa Station, Urana, is about to patent a machine, to be used in the artistion of bush fires. Mr. Sharp, though he has felt for some time perfectly confident of the pseudical value of his invention, and of its utility in extinguishing bush fires, yet desired to put its capabilities to the tests of actual experiment before introducing it to the public. This, we understand, has now been done, and with results so actual experiment helpes introducing it to the public. This, we understand, has now been stringuished at the rate of a mile in twenty minutes. But for the sumerous and disastrous bush fires that have occurred of late, and the melantrous bush fires that has been consistend thereby it is probable that the patentee would never have introduced his investion to public notice, but seeing the serious damages caused by fires, and the extreme difficulty of gutting them out by menual labour, he was led to the belief that the work might be much more safely, expeditiously, and effectively accomplished by the aid of machinery than by any other means, and without any danger to life or limb. Any one who has been present at and taken an active part in extinguishing a bush fire much law without that some means could have been devised of accomplishing the desired end by safer, quicker, and less laborious means than those manually employed. If fire Sharp, by the use of machinery, can obviate the necessity of expessing human life to risk in the trying and dangerous work of putling out bush fires, as from all that we hear if scens that he can, he will be entitled to the substantial graiting-of every runkelder in the country. We are unable at present to give any description of the nature of the machine employed by Mr. Sharp for the present to give any description of the mature of the machine means.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1872.

THE GOVERNOR having granted a dissolution it may be of little avail to debate its propriety. It was a point left to his discretion, and he has thought proper to exercise it in a manner which will probably lead to important, per-haps disastrous, results. It is a serious thing to dissolve the House when there are five thouto dissolve the House when there are five thousand persons paidby wages or salaries out of the public Treasury who will be deprived of their income, and this number including the military force. We do not think that the Ministers exhausted all means within their power to avert this mischief, and we do not think they can be discharged from the responsibility which on a Minister in such a case must finally abide. That responsibility is wholly moral, and the physical effects are the lot of the Civil servants.

The perorogation will be shortly followed by a dissolution, and then all considerations of the deed must be viewed in an historical light a dissolution, and then all considerations of the deed must be viewed in an historical light rather than as a question of the day—as a case for regret, not for repentance.

We have not been hostile to the present Ministry, either as a whole or in part. have never written a line that can be fairly or to put any existing party in their place. We have from the very first opposed the revival of the Border duties, and have condemned that the Border duties, and have condemned that course in every possible form, excepting that of party and acrimonious hostility. But we are convinced that, in calling for a dissolution in order to support it, Ministers are compromising the welfare of the country, and creating the turmoil of an election, which will have all its mischiavant consequences. will have all its mischievous consequences without any beneficial result.

In explanation of the course of the Go In explanation of the course of the Go-vernor, it has been repeatedly insinuated that he was under a pledge of long standing to his Ministry to grant them dissolution in case they could not carry their measures, and that it was under some such condition the Ministry assumed the reins of office. We are not going to accept an unauthenticated statement as absolutely true, though it certainly has been sufficiently long and persistently made to justify its denial if untrue. Is it, thereto justify its denial if untrue. Is it, therefore, correct that the GOYERNOR did at any time before the Border dispute promise dissolution to his Ministers in case they could not carry their policy through the House? And is it true that, by the force of this promise, he has felt bound to the course he has taken, without regard to its fitness or its probable results? In reference to the first question we have no doubt whatever that a promise made by a Representative of the Crown to take a certain course in a distant future is an imprudent and course in a distant future is an imprudent and dangerous promise—serious in proportion as it is formal, and amounting to a distinct and absolute pledge. It is not unusual to give a conditional promise in view of certain measures, or of a certain combination of circumstances clearly foreseen. A Ministry would hardly undertake office, if not sustained by the Governor and receiving his assurance of official confidence. There might, therefore, be in the crisis the prospect of circumstances when it would be indispensable for the Governor to dissolve or abandon his Ministers to their fate. Where there is a strong sympathy with the Ministry in the country, stronger course in a distant future is an imprudent and with the Ministry in the country, stronger and more manifest than any in the Assembly, dissolution would be an appropriate step. But this would be only right where the other condition was fulfilled laid down by the

should be manifest.

Any one may perceive that a promise made by a Governor extending to all possibilities of political action would destroy the independence of Parliament. Ministers call the Parliament together, and do nothing, either from indolence or impotence. It is the duty of the representatives of the people to require such measures and changes as may be for the public good. We understand the propriety of giving a dissolution when the representatives show themselves averse to the definite measures of the Administration; but nite measures of the Administration; but nothing can be more unconstitutional than to nothing can be more unconstitutional than to sithheld all such measures, to keep them in abcyznce by suspending the sittings or by other causes, and to place members of Parliament under the threat, namely the promise of dissolution made by the Governon in case of their proving indecile. We know of no circumstances where a more dangerous power can be exercised. We know that the threat of dissolution is a threat not only of loss of seat by accidental causes, but that it involves considerable expense. It is worth incurring for a great political measure but not otherwise.

It is very fine to say that members of the

It is very fine to say that members of the Assembly ought to be glad to go to the hustings and receive a new appointment by the people. If this is so desirable, the husings and receive a new appointment by the people. If this is so desirable, the shortening of l'arliaments is more so. The representatives would then act under a certain responsibility to those who sent them, and not under terror of a threat which may be executed or may be withdrawn, and which may be indeed the alternative of other forms of corruption of the most serious kind.
Is it right, then, for the Governor to sanction such a system by a promise extending over Is it right, then, for the Governor to sanction such a system by a promise extending over an indefinite time and relating to circumstances unknown? We believe it is not, and that it would be found a source of great danger and embarrassment to any representative of the Crown who might be induced to make it. When a Ministry produced a bill like the Reform Bill of England, and when the King was known to be opposed to its provisions, it was right that they should make it a condition when assuming office that they should not be dismissed by the Sovereign in their constitutional efforts to pass it into law. But constitutional efforts to pass it into law. But there certainly would be no such promise, except for a known and definite object, made by the Secretary Projects. by the Sovereign of England.

by the Sovereign of England.

But assuming that the Governor was under the force of this promise, was he bound to fulfil it in the present circumstances of the country? The matter in dispute is wholly new since the formation of the Ministry. The present opinion of the Assembly was the opinion of the Ministers at that time. No one would have dreamt of provoking or carrying on a Border contest. No one especially would have thought of refusing the last proposition of the Government of Victoria. The circumstances, therefore, that would have been contemplated by a promise of dissolution have the Government of Victoria. The circumstances, therefore, that would have been contemplated by a promise of dissolution have wholly changed. The motives which it was supposed would justify dissolution have wholly disappeared. There has been no measure rejected but the measure of the Border Customs. The Assembly has shown itself up to a certain point far too negligent and docile. In this respect its only excuse is, that the delay in the meeting of Parliament and the deferring of the measures to the present moment have been the acts of the Ministers. The serious inconvenience occasioned to the Civil servants would not have existed had the Ministers discharged their duty by obtaining provision to meet the public expenditure in reasonable time. They would not, indeed, have had to resort in the first month of the new jyear to extraordinary measures, which in reality deprived the Assembly of its Constitutional authority in voting supplies. Two circumstances therefore meet. At the last moment the Border duties are revived, when we are told that the law is imperative, and we must enforce the collection without and we must enforce the collection without and we must enforce the collection without delay. At the same time the law is imperative which interdicts the spending of public money without the authority of Parliament. The action of the Government deprives five thousand persons of their means of living. We certainly think that if the Governor was not under the force of a promise, there was nothing in the case to justify dissolution, and if he was under the force of a promise we regret exceedingly that of a promise we regret exceedingly that he should have suffered himself to be so so far entrapped, or that the Ministry should have pressed upon him a pledge which in the new circumstances seemed to place in conflict the honour of a gen'leman and the duties of a Governor. But it may be that he has given a pledge, and that he fulfils it in conformity with his political convictions. But even supposing he had made an imprudent promise, it has the assent of his understanding and con-science independent of that promise. If this is the case, we have nothing more to say.

In touching on Trade Partnerships lately, the examples of the idea put forth by the late Mr. Charles Babbage were omitted. The theory only was dealt with. We will now look a little only was dealt with. We will now look a little into the practical working of the scheme, for as it is proposed by thinking men as the only feasible solution of the present difficulty between labour and capital, any of the effects that can be pointed to must be worth attention.

The conclusions Mr. BABBAGE came to with respect to this "vertical copartnery," as we have termed it, that is to say, not the union of have termed it, that is to say, not the union of masters on the same line, but of masters with masters on the same line, but of masters with workmen, when as yet the union nowhere existed, were that it would give every person engaged in it a direct interest in its prosperity, since the effect of any success, or falling off, would immediately produce a corresponding change in his own weekly receipts. He also assumed that every person concerned in the factory would have an immediate interest in preventing any waste or mismanagement in all the dewould have an immediate interest in preventing any waste or mismanagement in all the departments; that the talents of all connected with it would be strongly directed to its improvement in every department, and that none but workmen of high character and qualifications could obtain admission to such establishments; because, when any additional hands were required, it would be the common interest of all to admit only the most respectable and skilful, and it would be far less easy to impose upon a dozen workmen than upon the skilful, and it would be far less easy to impose upon a dozen workmen than upon the single proprietor. The union proposed by the acute author of the "Economy of Manufactures, for Working Men and Masters," is a very different thing from the unions that working men have effected for themselver, whereby high character and competence in the labourer is disregarded, foregoing assumptions being correct we are prepared for the glimpse with which Mr. Exhance indulges himself into the future.

The workmen and capitalists would so shade into each other-would so evidently have a common interest, and their difficulties and distresses would be mutually so well understood, that, instead of combining to oppress one another, the only combination which could exist would be a most powerful union between both parties to evercome their common difficulties."

Let us see how this principle of copartnery has been applied in the case of the Whitwood and Methley Collieries. Until the whitwood and Methley Collieries. Until the middle of the year 1865 this colliery was worked under the style of Mosars. Bacous and Sow, being a private partnership. During ten years previous to that date four long strikes had occurred, causing a loss of seventy-eight weeks of work, not to speak of many lesser interruptions. It is given on selicitations that the second control of the second colling the second c given on reliable testimony that the sum of these interruptions, i distributed throughout the year, amounted to the loss of one day's work in every week, both to masters and men. In addition to this was the cost inmen. In addition to this was the cost in-curred in the struggles with the men, in in-porting non-unionists, and guarding the men and works from outrage. There were the usual sad concomitants of such struggles— evictions of the unionists, attacks on the non-unionists, police guards, threatening let-ters, and the like—the whole culminating in a serious riot. There was, in fact, a small civil war in which bodies of armed men attacked quiet cottages with fire, and threatened the inmates with death. The trials at the subsequent assizes at York record the facts.

The pecuniary result of this civil war was, that the proprietors barely secured 5 per cent. on the average of ten years, and they were so thoroughly disgusted and pained at their rela-tions with their men that they were on the point of threwing up the business. Fortunately the Companies' Act of 1862 suggested a new arrangement, and in 1865 the experiment was made. Messrs. Bricos simply proposed to divide with their men all excess of net profit over 10 per cent.; at the same time the men were allowed and encouraged to purchase small shares in the undertaking, without, however. shares in the undertaking, without, however, acquiring any power to interfere in the management of the business. The effect, as Mr. Barbage said it would be, is peace. Steady, zealous work has become the unbroken rule. Strikes are known only by tradition. Hardly a day's work has been lost: mutual feelings of confidence and esteen between the employers and employed have been thoroughly established. The moral condition of the neighbourhood is distinctly improved. There is less drankenness, lessighting, swearing, and gambling. These are facts which rest upon undoubted testimony. But they are the moral facts only; pecuniarily the change is as marked. During the four complete years which have been passed since the the change is as marked. During the four com-plete years which have been passed since the piete years which have been passed since the partnership was constituted, the capitalists have received dividends of 12, 13, 13, and 13, per cent. An average profit of 13 per cent, earned amid peace and good will, compared with 5 per cent, earned out of contention and riot, present cent. carned out of contention and riot, present advantages appreciable by most people.

Let us state a second case. Mesars, Fox. Haan, and Co., of Newcastle, up to the year 1866 had suffered more from strikes than Mesars. Butous. Their works had stood idle about one-fourth of the time since they had about one-fourth of the time since they had been opened; and at the close of the long strike of 1866 they determined to enter into an arrangement with their work-people such as Mr. Babbace proposed, but which he did not expect would be offered by the upper element in the combination to the lower. It should be observed that this partnership was constituted just at the commencement of a period of intense depression in the trade. The collapse of 1866, and the cessation of railway works, had rendered it difficult for any ironmaster to make a profit. In their first two annual reports, this firm were obliged to declare to their men that there was obliged to declare to their men that there was no bonus to divide. No impatience was shown —the accounts were audited. In the third —the accounts were audited. In the third year the proprietors were enabled to distribute a bonus of 2½ per cent., or 6d. in the pound on all wages. The state of feeling existing at the works is spoken of as excellent, and the scheme can scarcely want further testimony of success when we are told that the partnership has just been reconstructed for another period of five years.

of five years. Mr. Hughes said at a meeting called to discuss the subject, that when called down into the Cleveland iron district, as arbitrator between the masters and the men on a question of the advance of wages, he found a strong approval of this movement. During the arbitration some fourteen or fifteen men sat on one side opposite to fourteen or fifteen masters on the other, and the only factory in the district not represented was that of Messrs. Fox. Head, and Co., and from them they had a communication stating that they had just divided a bonus for the past year and were perfectly contented. year, and were perfectly contented.

This amounts to no more than payment by results, a principle generally approved. It has been practised for some time past in some special trades to which it is almost indispensable. In the whaling trade, in fishing, in the Cornish mining system, in American trading ships, and in the Welsh slate quarries it has been tried and found to succeed. There are also examples of it amongst the mineral industries in this colony, and the adjoining colonies. But it demands a wider application.

The opponent of industrial partnerships argues upon the ground that the employer must have all the profit, because it is requisite to compensate him for all the trouble and skill expended in management; in short, that he must have powerful self-interest in the matter. But it may be safely answered that the men have so many opportunities of benefiting the work of a large factory. and they have so many means of injuring it by strikes and contentions that it is entirely to the interest of the employer to buy their exertions and goodwill with a Dissolution of Parliament.—It was generally expected in publical droles that the Governor's proclamation dissolving Parliament would have been leaned yesterday. It is understood that the Government have his Excellency's signature to the proclamation; and for all practical purposes the Parliament may be considered to be already dissolved. We hast that arrangements have been made by the Risisters to preceed to Thronby Park by special train on Ricaday, what they will procure his Expellency's signature to the new write for members to arre in the Legislett's Assembly, which we aspect will, with the proclamation, be issued from the Celevial Secretary's office on Tuesday.

The Forthcoming Elections.—Preparations are being actively made by soliticians in Sydney and throughout the obtainty for the Parliamentary elections about to take place. Until the proclamation dissolving Parliament be assets, aspirants for legislative honours cannot deceatly some before the public; but a good deal of preliminary organization to being astempted, and by the sud of next week a general and an epon canvasa will have been commitmed. The manus of saveral gentlemen and mentioned as likely to center the Sydney electronics, but it is probage premature in give published to the second.

The French Consul.—Many of our readers will be pleased to see that a meeting is called for Monday afternorm in reference to the projected departure from this colony of the French Consul. No doubt, a large mumber of gentlemen with be glad to respond to the proposition to tender to M. Seatis "some public expression of the regard and extern in which he has been held furnishing residence here as Consul for France."

NEW SOUTH WALER COURT AT THE EXHIBITION,—Some very line photographs of the inheritor and autorior of the court in the London Exhibition set apart for a display of produce and works of art from the Australian ethnits, have been received at the Office of the Agricultural Society. They give an excellent sides of the building, and of the judicious and effective manner in which all available space has been used to make this colony appear to advantage. The photographs are of superior excellence.

A MONSTER CAKE OF GOLL.—A Cake of retorted gold, whiching 102 lbs. Sec., from the claim of Iwyer, Attwood, and Co., Hill End, Hawkins Hill, was on view yesterday morning at Greelle's Rooms. With the exception of atcut 30 oz, the cake is the result of a crushing of 150 tons of quarts, and three months were crupied in raising the stone, owing to the work which had to be done in crus-cruting and driving to the new vein. The cake, which excited a great deal of curiosity, will be smalled at the Bank of New South Wales, and the ake will be exhibited to day.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE WATER FOLLOR OF THE Police Office, the Water Police Office, the Water Police Court is almost polarial. The court room proper for commissions, and the removal of the space allotted for the public to some years behind the deck is an improvement. PAPER COMPANY.—The report presented at the helf-pearly meeting of the London and New South Walvs. Paper Fibre and Paper Company (limited), held at Maitland on Tuesday hat, shows that a considerable quantity of flock is now in process of manufacture, and also material for making brown paper. The directors angumentat the paper mechine, which was started on Selficialy last, is working most successfully. Fending advices from Reginand respecting the values of the "half-stuff," it is anticipated that the returns from the sile of brown paper will be sufficiently remunerative to defray current expenses. Some specimen brown paper, made by this company from constalks, has been forwarded to Sydney, and it appears to be of excellent quality. It is light, Sarible, and tough.

THE BORDER TRADE WITH VICTORIA.—When the Victorians talk of taxing our cattle and along that we send to that colony (observes the Fuetoral Times), we hope that our friends over the Murray will bear in mind-that we cant down on that Rebusonling 74,565 bales of wool in 1871, which goes to swell Vistorian exports—increase the value of their debratures, and have some good effect in lowering the cost of freight from Great Britain to Victoria by providing seturn Freight. Supposing such of these bales of wool to be worth only £76 (we are far below the called), we have sent via Hobsen's Bay wool in value amounting to £1,491,000—probably two millions of pounds or right would be reverse the great value of this wool. We have sent via Hobsen's Bay wool in value amounting to £1,491,000—probably two millions of pounds or right great with the sheep traffic course to £21,000. Here are massly £66,000 more which we handed over to our neighbours. They took away in Murray limber 30,000 tons, all of which we knowled not go from the New South Wales side of the Murray, but most of it did, and we claim all the rives Murray that runs through our colony. This intercolonial trade ought not to be interfered with unnecessarily. Bear in mind that we sent the Victorian 417,000 sheep per rail, and tens of thousands travelled the other reads of the sister colony. We also sent them unwards of £2,000 fat cattle.

of the EVIN,

Mr. Pring deciares that he will make the Speaker suffer for it.

A most gratifying event, as far as the welfare of this city is concerned, took place on Friday last, when the ship Young Australia was towed up to Flarris's Wharf with a large portion of her cargo on board. This vessel has been on the trade for the last eight or nine years, and, although she has been able to come inside the river to load and unload, she has never been betthed at Brisbane wharf before. This achievement is due to the success which has attended the dredging operations at the Eagle Farm Flats—a work which, when fully completed, will almost put an end to the expensive system of lighterage. It is expected that the Young Australia will be combiled to load nearly the whole of her outward cargo at the wharf. Her registered tonnage is about Tow tons.

DEATH OF A TURF CECERRITY.—The Richmond River Express states that Mr. W. C. Bundock's thoroughbred horie Crar, so well-known on the turf, was found in his paddock last week with one hind legi broken shout off below the hock, and the bone through the skie; the snimal had to be destroyed. Czar never ran at any "meet" without pulling off one or more priess; except at Casino, in 1870, when he was evidently out of health, and received only the sweep. He was the last into of the hiddenex stock left in the district, and we believe in the coker. Two sone of Middlesex—North Australia, and Springboo-after distinguishing themselves in Australia, want to China and were large winters. Riddlesex, by the celebrated Melbourne, was bred by Beron Rothnchild, and, as a three-year-old, rus second by half-a-length, for the 2000 guineas at Roumarket, and was considered by many too brat horse even imported into New South Wales. Unfortunately he died within a year of his arrival, and left but few descendants.

DIED FROM NATURAL CAUSES.—A correspondent of the Wagna Express, in commenting on the verdict given by juries at inquests, says—"I remember a verdict was once returned in the case of a very stout old lady who chanced to-plump herself down in an easy chain which a poor infant was confrontably reposing. The wresthed child was of course authorably surposing. The wresthed child was of course authorably surposing. The wresthed child was of course authorably surposing. News from Mauritius to the end of December induced importers to expect a rise here, especially as there was a better inquiry a few days ago. Judging from the result of Messrs. Bradley, Newton, and Lamb's sale today, there is not much real improvement. Their catalogue consisted of about 250 tons Colonial sugar, Company's make—but not of the ordinary standard qualities—and although the trade was fully represented there was very little disposition to purchase. A few lots of yellows sold at £30 to £34, and the finer qualities were withdrawn. Teas exhibit no change.

The You Yangs (a.) brings Melbourne papers to the 30th ultimo. The Argus of that date reports of the markets: reports of the markets:—

In the import markets to-day business has been remarkably quiet, and the few transactions which come under our observation have been comparatively unimportant. In breadatuffs there is little change to notice. Melbourie flour is atendity maved off in trade parcels at from £13 10s to £12 15s per ton; for country trands there has also been some lengthy; at lower rates. Wheat brands in the control of the country transactions where the country is the country transaction have been come length; at lower rates. Wheat there is very little doing, and quotations remain without change at £2 20 to 3s for ordinary amplies of Victorian grown. ADDRESS OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS TO THE CROWN NOT TO DISSOLVE PAR-LIAMENT.

Sin,—As I have heard some persons express an opinion to the effect that the House of Common never addressed the Crows not to dissolve Farliament, I will point to one precedent which ought to be known to any one acquainted with Farliamentary history. In December, 1783, Er. Erskins proposed a long address to the Crows not to dissolve Parliament. This address was carried, and on December 24th the Common went up to St. Jensel's with their address, to which his Majesty returned the following answer:—
"Gentlemen.—It has been my constant object to employ the authority estructed to me by the Constitution, to its true and only end.—the good of my people; and I am always happy in concurring with the wishes and options of my institution of the support of the public credit and revenue must demand your most extenset and rightant care. The state of the East Indirs is also an object of as much delicaty and demonstrate as can exercise the wisdom and justice of Parliament. I trust you will proceed in those considerations with all convenient speed, after such an adjournment as the present circumstances may seem to require. And I assure you I shall not interrupt your meeting by any exectise of my proregative, either of proregation or dissolution."

1 believe that other cases may be cited, but I will not encouch upon your speed further of proceeding the state of the R. P. IDDINGTON.

BANCHORY AND ISLAY PLAINS STATIONS. F. WANT has been instructed by the mortgagees to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, 273, George-street, Sydney, in March, on a day to be named,
Those excellent equatting properties on the Belyande River, in the district of South Kennedy, Queenshand, situated within 40 miles of the township of Clermont, known as the Banchory and Islay Plains Stations.

Chermont, known as the Banchory and Islay Plains Stations.

BANCHORY STATION sensists of 4 blocks of country, containing an area of 250 square miles, held under the Queensland "Pastoral Lenses Act of 1869," at a moderate rent, for a term of 21 years.

The stock thereon numbers 20,000 sheep, 315 head of cattle, and 52 horses.

Faddocks have been formed enclosing an area of 128 square miles, enabling the property to be worked without shepherding.

square miles, enabling the property to us worses whenherding.

This run is intersected with numerous creeks, affording an abundant supply of water, and the country contains very rich flats with saltbunk and herbage.

The sheep, which have been well culled for several seasons, are of a very good quality, and the clip of wool gives very satisfactory returns.

I rom the proximity of these runs to the Peak Downs Goldfields, now extending in the direction of Banchery, and to the Peak Downs Copper Mine, where a large establishment is maintained, the local market will afford a good cutlet for fat stock.

in maintained, the scott marret will after a good outlet for fat stock.

ISLAY PLAINS, also held under the Pastonai Leases Act, of 1869, at the low rental of £88 per annum, contains 147 square miles of country, and will be sold unstocked.

There are sufficient improvements for carrying on this property as a separate station, but it has been and can again be worked in conjunction with the Banchery run, from which it is distant twenty-five miles. It contains very excellent country, richly grassed with plenty of salt bush and herbage, and can be advantageously used for fattening stock.

used for fattening stock.

The above runs have been formed at great expunse, but will now be offered by the mortgagees at a great sacrifice, and not being far from a port and market, afford a most excellent opportunity for investment.

Purther information and terms, which will be liberal, ran be obtained on applicating from the anctioneer, at the Pasietal Exchange.

The above Run is celebrated as being a very healthy one, and is very lightly stocked.

DARLING DOWNS, QUEENSLAND. WYAGA AND WOONDUL STATIONS.

WYAGA AND WOODDUL STATIONS,

F. WANT has received instructions the from the Mortgagees to sell by auction, at his Rooms, 273, George-street, Sydney, in March, on a day to be named, the WAGA AND WOONDUL STATIONS, in the celebrated Darling Downs District, Queensland, consisting of three blocks of country, well watered by the Mortnan, Commeran, and Yarrol Creeks, and including an area of 443 miles.

On each of these stations, the areas of which are respectively 233 and 210 square miles, the improvements are exceedingly good, and are quite sufficient to enable the preperties to be worked separately.

The stock consists of 19,000 sheep, 200 hasd of cattle, and station horses, full particulars of which may be obtained of the Auctioneer. He would, however, draw the attention of purchasers to the fact that 5000 to 6000 of the wheep are 4 and 5 year old wedders which will be ready for market in March next, as well as the usual number of fat owes.

wes. The Auctioneer would also refer to the preximity of these properties to the Southern and Western Railway, connecting them with Brisbane, the capital of Queenaland, and thus ensuring a good market for fat stock, and affording a cheep and ready means for obtaining supplies and conveying the station produce to port.

Further information and terms (which will be liberal), may be obtained of the Auctioneer, on application at the Pastoral Exchange, 273, George-atreet, Sydney. Splendid BARCOO RUNS, District of Mitchell, Queensland.

Queeneland.

C. F. WANT is instructed by the MortTe gages to sell by public auction, at his Rooms, 273, George-atreet, Sydney, in March next, on a day to be named, in two separate lots,
Those three (3) splendid fattening runs on the Barcoo River, in the district of Mitchall, near the township of Blackall, Queensland, known as MALVERN HILLS,
PORTLAND DOWNS
FORTHAND DOWNS
FORTHAND DOWNS
LOT 1 will include the Malvern Hills, and Portland
Downs Station.

MALVERN HILLS,
which is partly feaced, comprises 4 blocks of country, well watered, containing an area of 321 square miles, hold on a lease for 21 years, from July, 1869, at a moderate reatal, under the terms and provisions of the Queensland Pastoral Leases Act of 1889.
The stock consists of 38,000 Sheep of well proportioned ages and sexes, and as the stock has been carefully called for the past four years, the wool clip has realised most satisfactory prices in the London market.
8000 fat sheep will be ready for sale in March next.

regular conveyance of the wool to port is ensured in difseasons.

Three (3) paddocks have been formed with substantial fracing, enclosing an area of 39 square miles, upon which nearly the whole of the present stock is departuring, at a very small cost for labour, and the imprevements generally are of a substantial nature. Also the splendid run of PORTLAND DOWNS,
unstocked. It consists of 6 blooks of country, abundantly watered, containing an area of 314 square miles, held on a similar leave from the Quoensiand Government, at the low rental of £120 per annum.

The buildings and improvements are in good order, and the run can at once be occupied, in conjunction with Malvern Hills, without outlay of any kind, and it can also be fenced at a small expense, should a purchaser desire it.

be fenced at a small expense, should a purchaser desire it.

The splendid herbage which these runs contain, and their fattening capabilities, are well known, and have been repeatedly proved by the fat stock therefrom obtaining the highest price in the southern markets.

Permanent water in abundance is also a very important feature of these properties. During the drought in Queenshad, not only was the stock (then numbering from 56 to 60,000 sheep) amply maintained, but assistance was also rendered to neighbouring squatters, and, lastly, there is an entire freedom from great seed, which in so many squaiting properties has proved so datrimental both to wool safe stock.

Lot 2 will consist of the adjoining unstocked run of FORRHST HILL, containing 3 blocks of country, containing 167 square miles, held on a similar because the advancements.

containing 3 blocks of country, containing 187 square miles, held on a similar lesseaus the abovementioned.

This run contains first-lesse country, and would admirably suit a person of small means.

The auctionse would specially draw the attention of these squatters whose holdings are imperilled by free-selectors to the opportunity now silveded to secure for a long term of years one of the finest grazing properties in the Australian colonies.

the Australian colonies.

All further information and terms, which will be liberal, can be obtained of the suctioneer on application at the PASTORAL EXCHANGE, 273, George-atreet, Sydnay.
